with intention

A plan is just a starting point.

We don't expect you to know exactly what you want to do, but you've come to the right place to figure it out. When you are a Bronco, you are free to engage, free to change and free to explore. That might mean studying subjects you've loved for years. Or following one interest to the next until you arrive exactly where you were meant to be.

All this "future" talk can be intimidating...until it becomes completely liberating. There are so many possibilities ahead, and all you have to do is take the first step with us.

OR, FOR RIGHT NOW, FLIP TO THE NEXT PAGE.

ENGAGED LEARNING

Never r i d e alone

COLLEGE FRIENDSHIPS ARE LEGENDARY, and you can count your professors among them. The people you meet at Rider will be an integral part of your Engaged Learning experience.

Whether through collaborating with faculty on a research project or feeding the homeless at the Trenton Area Soup Kitchen, our students are involved agents of change, and they don't go it alone. We learn better together.

Service

When we give back to our communities, we give more than time or money - we give our whole selves. This deep commitment is at the heart of Rider, and we've created a network of altruism that stretches the boundaries of our campus.

Being a Bronc means...

- Collectively volunteering 30,000 hours with the Special Olympics, American Cancer Society, Habitat for Humanity, local after-school programs and more
- Taking part in the student-run Relay for Life, a decade-long tradition which has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars to support cancer research

Do you go above and beyond?

Our Rider Bronc Community Scholar program rewards students for exceptional community service.

Collaboration

Our 10:1 student-to-faculty ratio means, in addition to small classes and individual feedback, you might find yourself researching with your professors in the field, presenting side-by-side with them at national conferences or co-creating a documentary that gets you into the Cannes International Film Festival (true story!). Our faculty members are devoted mentors, ready to listen to your ideas and help you see them through into reality.

Harish Appakannan '19

Behavioral neuroscience major and Undergraduate Research Scholars Award recipient Harish worked alongside his mentor, Dr. Todd Weber, to study how high-fat diets and stress impact the regulation of glucocorticoid responses. Their findings were published in a scientific journal while Harish was still an undergrad.

ENGAGED LEARNING

Lead with integrity

learn

without reservation

YOU'RE GOING TO LEARN A LOT OF THINGS AT RIDER: how to collaborate on a group presentation, how to craft a persuasive essay, how to fold a fitted sheet (just kidding, we don't know how to do that, either). But the most important thing you'll learn is how to uncover the skills you didn't know you had, apply those skills to the world beyond Rider and turn them into a career.

Leadership

Public speaking and active listening don't come easily to all of us. We all need a little help and a lot of practice to become the kinds of leaders we ourselves would want to follow. To get that practice, Rider students hold 2,000 leadership positions in student organizations and sports teams, where they put the principles of effective leadership to use every day.

DAARSTOC

Future CEOs get a jump-start with Developing Administrative Abilities and Resources Through the Synergistic Training of Organizational Competencies, our elite executive skills-building organization.

GAIN HANDS-ON PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCES EVERY DAY

Professional Experience & Hands-On Learning

"So...what are you going to do with your degree?" Luckily, at Rider, that question won't leave you stumped after graduation. We've designed these next four years to help you find your answer.

Through internships, fieldwork and co-ops, you'll develop on-the-job skills, build your resume and make valuable connections. These real-world experiences will help you determine whether you're on the right path, allow you to change course if you need to and enable you to discover what it is you really want to pursue. And as an added bonus, Rider internships regularly turn into job offers.

Rider students have launched their careers at:

- ABC-TV
- Deloitte
- Ernst & Young
- ExxonMobil
- Fox Network
- Johnson & Johnson
- N.J. State Police Forensic Anthropology Lab
- New York Mets

...and hundreds of other places.

8 skills your graduate partners make it easy to get your resume

Broncs become CEOs, scientists, TV broadcasters, accountants, special education teachers and Olympic bobsled drivers, all over the world.

Major: Psychology

If you learn one thing about Rider, we want it to be this: Your job is to make sure you aren't sure what they are yet. The goal is to not know who you are when you graduate, but to know what you want. The goal is to be curious, open to change, and the person who says who they don't know what they are yet. They hope there is a strong tradition and they want to be part of it. They hope there is a strong tradition and they want to be part of it. They hope there is a strong tradition and they want to be part of it.

GO WILD

20 NCAA DIVISION I SPORTS TEAMS

Whether you're pushing your limits on the court, mat, field, track, pool or in the stands cheering until you lose your voice, the Bronc spirit is powerful and infectious. Our men's soccer team commands the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championship, and our swimming and diving and track and field teams won multiple gold medals in the 2018-19 season alone. To keep up with our athletes, we're always evolving our facilities, this year with a newly renovated pool.

Our Broncs don't just shine in athletic competition, they excel in the classroom too, with 195 Broncs named to the MAAC All-Academic Team in their sport in 2018-2019.

You can live stream home Bronc contests and pregame shows on ESPN, ESPN2, and the ESPN app with Rider students self-producing all the content.

People say college will be the best years of your life. We disagree. It's not that these next four years won't be great. They absolutely will be. You're going to make lifelong friends, ace tests, pull all-nighters, laugh until you cry and maybe even cry for real when you leave here. But all the fun you'll have is the foundation you're building for a rewarding, satisfying, full life that will continue to take shape long after you've left campus.

The banner is mounted on a silver pole. The left side is black with the Rider University logo at the bottom, which includes a red shield with a white tree and the year '1865'. Above the shield, the words 'RIDDER' and 'UNIVERSITY' are written in white, stacked vertically. A small red square is located at the bottom left of the black section. The right side is white with the text 'free to' in black, 'ro' in red, and 'am' in red. A horizontal line with a red square at its end is positioned between 'ro' and 'am'. A vertical line with a red square at its top and a gold circle at its bottom is positioned to the right of 'ro'. A purple square is at the top right corner, and a red square is just below it. A gold circle is on the right edge, aligned with the 'o' in 'ro'. A red bar is at the bottom of the white section. A vertical line of four squares (black, gold, red, black) is on the left side of the white section, aligned with the 'a' in 'am'.
