UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

This is not a

MONUMENT

It's a

BULLDOZER

When Jefferson placed The Rotunda at the center of this institution, he shattered convention and created a new, better model for education. For the first time, a library, not a church, sat at the heart of a university. Not only did this create the first secular university, it signaled a focused commitment to education, truth and the illimitable freedom of the human mind.

Around this temple of knowledge sprang the Academical Village. An educational haven where professors and students from all disciplines live and learn together, free to exchange and challenge ideas. Even as we've grown, the connection remains, as over half of all classes have fewer than 20 students. Indelible relationships still form. Passions ignite. And ingenuity thrives.

OWNING

TOMORROW

Thomas Jefferson designed the Academical Village—a UNESCO World Heritage site—to foster a community where students and professors live and learn together, constantly challenging one another. Where a culture of self-governance, built on honor and integrity, encourages students to own their undergraduate experience and creates passionate, lifelong learners.

The end result is that our graduates go on to achieve great—even historic—success. From Robert F. Kennedy, Hanan Ashrawi, Janet Napolitano and Peter Quick to Yasushi Akashi, Tina Fey and Katie Couric: for two hundred years, every successful graduate stands as a testament to what this foundation of self-governance and novel thinking can inspire in your son or daughter.

Close-knit relationships are at the core of the UVA experience. And it goes beyond the fact that over half our classes have fewer than 20 students. Our professors—among the best in their fields—make a point to meet with their students outside of class, whether it's over coffee or dinner with their families. Our faculty members do more than teach: they debate, discuss, mentor and build relationships with students as future leaders and peers.

Our support also means career advising from year one and connecting students to professional opportunities that can pave the way for bold careers. From an internship with Google to a semester studying global sustainability in Hong Kong, we give our students countless opportunities to define their success and achieve it.

Here at the University of Virginia, we were born from a tenacious pursuit of a better way. And this spirit continues to inspire us in all of our endeavors. It inspires us as a faculty, carrying a tradition of teaching and learning through relationships. And it inspires us in who we are as individuals, living our lives in what has been dubbed the "Happiest City in America."

See all that this idyllic city of Charlottesville has to offer, and how our sense of purpose and place fuels our pursuit of a full life.

LIVING

UVA's foundation — as an Academical Village ruled by self-governance, perpetuated with honor, and responsible for creating an educated citizenry— is no series of artifacts. It is the beacon that has guided us as we have written our future, both as a university and a nation.

For 200 years, an enduring conversation on these fertile Grounds has encouraged the UVA community to LIVE BEYOND THE PRESENT.

OUR LEGACY IS AN ORIGIN STORY.

One of ideas brought to action and action brought to impact. It provides the certainty that what we set in motion in this moment matters. And so, we never stop starting, casting our minds forward to ask bigger, bolder questions that ripple through history.

PRESENT

THE PAST IS

We are the cause of effects yet known, bringing far-flung disciplines together, finding intersections that will impact the trajectory of the world. This is where our Brain Institute reverse-engineers the mind to understand understanding. Where pan-university initiatives educate leaders that will see and seize upon dynamic ideas to tackle the world's most complex challenges. HERE, EVERYDAY IS ANOTHER BOLD EXPERIMENT IN TOMORROW.

OUR PURPOSE IS NOT TO BE HOPEFUL. IT IS TO BECOME THE SOURCE OF HOPE, ITSELF. NOT TO READY OURSELVES FOR WHAT HAPPENS NEXT, BUT TO CREATE IT.

WE

FUTURE

T For the past 200 years, for the next 200, what links today to tomorrow is EACH OF US. Our energy, our refusal to settle for what is, and our willingness to work together to create what will be. We invite the world in to shape our shared future, adding endless perspective to our endless pursuit. We bring in the voices of those unafraid to shape tomorrow. Together, we will continue the continuum.*

WE WON'T HAVE TO BREAK WITH TRADITION TO MOVE FORWARD.

BECAUSE OUR OLDEST TRADITION IS CREATING NEW TOMORROWS.

LOGO USAGE GUIDE | VERSION 1.0

PRIMARY LOGO: INTRODUCTION

The UVA bicentennial logo is inspired by Thomas Jefferson's architectural designs for the Rotunda. Selected by students, the "200" mark evokes the history and heritage of the University of Virginia, in addition to its founding as a revolutionary model for higher education.

While designed specifically for the 2017 bicentennial final exercises and commemoration, this logo is approved for use on all ancillary bicentennial materials.

PRIMARY LOGO

This is the UVA Bicentennial primary logo. It should be used whenever possible to maintain brand consistency when representing the Institute as a whole.

Preferred Full-Color Logo

The Pantone, CMYK or RGB full-color logos are preferred. Use Pantone or CMYK for any print use such as collateral or business materials. Use RGB for electronic use such as computer presentations, digital or TV.

White Knockout Logo

The White Knockout logo is a versatile logo that can be used in both print and digital applications. It is best used on color or photographic backgrounds where the Preferred Full-Color logo would not provide sufficient contrast.

1-Color Logo

1-Color logos can be used with more limited printing or application techniques, such as embroidery or screenprinting. Approved colors include UVA Orange, UVA Blue, and where necessary, black.

UVA ORANGE
PMS 158C / C: 0, M: 63, Y: 100, K: 0 / R: 229, G: 114 B: 0

Do not use unapproved colors for the primary logo.

Do not use unapproved color configurations of the primary logo.

Do not place the primary logo in a container shape of any type.

Do not change the typeface of any part of the primary logo.

Do not rearrange the elements of the primary logo.

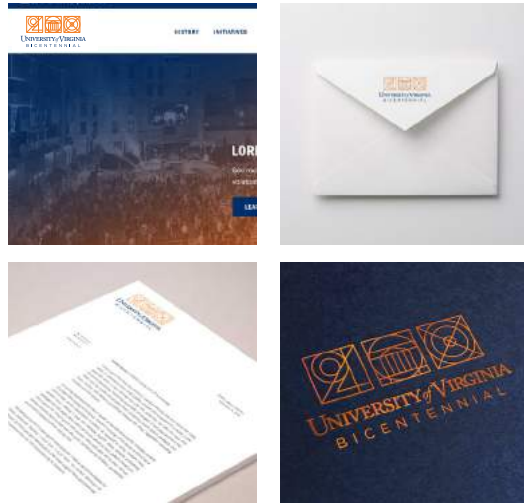

Do not add additional information to the primary logo.

Do not place the primary logo on a color that does not provide sufficient contrast.

Do not place the primary logo on visually distracting backgrounds.

PRIMARY LOGO: APPLICATION EXAMPLES

Correct and consistent use of the primary logo is an essential part of maintaining brand equity. While a great deal of flexibility has been built into the visual identity system, the use of each element has been carefully defined.

SECONDARY LOGO

The Bicentennial Secondary Logo is the 200 mark without the UVA Bicentennial wordmark. It can be used either vertically or horizontally. This mark should be used sparingly and only for internal purposes where the primary logo is established and well known. This could include on-Grounds banners, graduation stoles, zipper pulls, etc. It can also be paired with the primary logo, but should always maintain a vast size difference to prevent visual competition between the two marks (see application examples on page 8).

Secondary Logo Vertical: 1-Color

Secondary Logo Horizontal: 1-Color

1-Color Logo

The Secondary logo should always be set in a single, solid color. Approved colors include UVA Orange, UVA Blue, and where limited application techniques are involved, black.

PHYSICAL INTELLIGENCE

MENTAL STRENGTH FROM

Can practicing yoga help athletes become more focused in class? Can daily meditation actually reverse diabetes? Can adaptive physical education open up a whole new world of ability for people with disabilities?

At Curry, we're answering these questions. Through our work, we're seeing how yoga helps reduce stress and improve mental health for athletes. We're also seeing how meditation can help improve focus and concentration. And we're seeing how adaptive physical education can help students with disabilities become more active and engaged in their education. WE UNLOCK WHAT'S
BENEATH

A new way forward requires new perspectives.
It demands those who see patterns instead of problems,
and those who find answers in spite of obstacles.
The ones who know how to extract solutions trapped within and beneath the data. At the Data Science Institute, we're working with physicians, experts at IBM,
CEOs, military generals, architects and social media
experts to change how the world views the impossible.
Digging beneath and pushing progress past its limits,
and building better ways to solve, work, and create.
Because it's only by seeing the world differently, that we can make the greatest difference for it.

Hello

LYNDON B. JOHNSON & MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.

Here, President Johnson calls Martin Luther King Jr. one evening in 1963 to thank him for his "I Have a Dream" speech. Like a call from a longtime friend, this heartwarming gesture was more than political posturing. It was a promise that he was worthy of King's hopes and dreams — one he'd fulfil two years later by signing the Voting Rights Act of 1965, ending racial discrimination in voting.

McINTIRE SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

Reshaping the tools of the trade.

From the Silk Road to the information superhighway, interchange has played a key role in human development.

The units of trade have changed — from salt and spices, to paper and plastic, to bits and bytes. But the essentials endure. With a tradition of informed intuition and a commitment to our shared future, the McIntire School of Commerce embodies the continuous advancement of the global business industry. By educating, supporting and empowering the leaders of today and tomorrow, we will continue to evolve the understanding, definition and parameters of exchange.

Business is personal

Number-crunching. Bean-counting. Why does the language of commerce sound so... commercial? Data points and analytics provide the what, what, where, when and why. It's up to us to transform those answers into intelligent questions, relevant insights and meaningful impact. At the McIntire School of Commerce, we embrace how small risk business can be. Our globally-minded community of students and faculty, research institutes, alumni, CEOs and corporate partners embodies the personal aspect that drives every new insight and solution, continually evolving the face of business.

NATURAL RESOURCEFULNESS

Student Life

We are a vibrant community of individual talents, abilities, and interests, but our shared ambition is our greatest strength.

We see focus on our individual paths, but the moments we live for are the ones made together. Building new horizons, new connections, and new connections. We look ahead, with a shared vision, the spark of potential in our eyes. It's various business, but there's still plenty of fun to be had.

SEEING ANYWHERE

We don't see distance as an obstacle. Or a vehicle as mandatory for exceptional care. The best care should come to you. That's why we work tirelessly to stay at the forefront of breakthrough research and technology, with developments like Telemedicine expanding our virtual footprint to the far corners of the Commonwealth, enabling us to provide more care to more people, everywhere they need us, every day.

Nurses aren't just the backbone of medicine and the front lines of care. Nurses are confidants, advocates, lifesavers, and innovators. You see it in the smiles. In the birthdays they remember. In the handwritten thank you notes they get from kids. Called to serve and driven to always do more for their patients, nurses are vital members of the team at UVA Health System. It's why we do everything we can to support your education, professional development, research, and community engagement. Because we know, for you, nursing is more than a job. It's a way of life.

FOR ANGELA WATSON

6 MONTHS TO LIVE

IS 2012

When fashion student Angela Watson was given six months to live, her family longed for a better way, a shift in perspective that could save their daughter's life. So they came to UVA Cancer Center, a home for truly reimagined care. Our tight-knit family of experts quickly started using Angela's own white blood cells to treat her cancer. Now cancer free, Angela's back in class, back in the closets, and planning her first runway show. "Without UVA," she says, "none of this would be possible."

YOUR EYES ARE THE WINDOWS TO NEW SOLUTIONS

As a nurse, you are one of the first people our patients see. From pediatrics to orthopedics to mobile outreach, you see what's working and you know what needs changing. And you're always finding new ways to care for people. That's why nurse researchers are uniquely positioned to drive innovation in the lab. Changing how we investigate, finding new solutions, and improving how we care. And it's why we encourage all our nurses to join the Nursing Research Program.
