

MARS

NOBODY
THINKS OUTSIDE OF THE BOX
WHILE SITTING
IN ONE.

The ideas that shape business don't fit neatly inside a box. And the relationships needed to bring them to life aren't built on beige partitions. At Mars Drinks, we didn't set out to build the world's best coffee machine. We set out to transform the workplace. Sure, our products brew drinks better than what's served up by that barista down the block who routinely forgets your name. But what's stronger than the true espresso our machines deliver are the bonds formed when sharing one.

The Barista

Backlash

HAS BEGUN

*Tamping the grounds. Pulling the shot. Pouring the crema.
Check, the OK, and the OK.*

There's nothing your local coffee house barista can do that the Prelude can't. That's because the Prelude is the only single-serve office brewer that crafts perfect coffees, teas, lattes, and cappuccinos, and now, authentic espressos, all at the press of a button. That means no matter what workers are craving, they'll be able to spend less time running out to get it, and more time enjoying it together.

In fact, the only thing the Prelude won't do is mislead you: none on a big paper cup.

Pressure Packed

SO YOUR OFFICE WON'T BE

Unlike any other single-serve machine, the PerkUp gives the pressure needed to create as much foam as the beverage packs themselves.	So whether you're using the machine for the 100s or the 100mls, you'll always get consistently delicious coffee, tea, latte, cappuccino, and now, espresso.	When you're in a hurry, our extra-large 10oz cup is the way to go. The machine has a built-in place for the cup.

GOLDEN HOUR

It's 20 minutes before sunrise till 40 minutes after moonrise. It happens mid-hike under a tree on a hill. And right after a killer sock with 2. So out of the SW. It's an afternoon on a porch in your hometown with a dog watching the world go by. It's all day Saturday. And Sunday. It's a slice with extra whatever in the middle of the night. It's 25 minutes, a half-hour, and half a day whenever. It's a trail, a dock, and a hammock in a backyard wherever. Golden Hour is whenever and wherever you have time to mellow with a mighty dip, super crisp, orchard fresh, platan, free, no sugar or water or concentrates added Golden State Cider—and just, take it easier.
